

Strengthening the Rule of Law and Human Rights to Achieve Peaceful, Just and Inclusive Societies

A high-level event to examine the role of justice, security and human rights systems in achieving SDG 16+

8 July 2019, 10:00am – 1:00pm
New York

UN Trusteeship Council Chamber

BACKGROUND

The High-Level Political Forum (HLPF) is an annual gathering and serves as a global platform for taking stock of and reviewing progress towards achieving the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). This year the High Level Political Forum will take place under the theme of "Empowering People and Ensuring Inclusiveness and Equality". Accordingly, SDG16 on peace, justice and strong institutions will be featured for the first time since 2015, alongside five other goals.

Within SDG16, target 16.3 highlights the importance of "Promoting the rule of law at the national and international levels and ensure equal access to justice for all." Access to justice and the rule of law are considered cornerstones for peace and development to be sustainable, especially in fragile and conflict-affected contexts where institutions often lack the capacity to reach those furthest behind. <sup>1</sup>

Accountable, effective, and transparent institutions and processes that promote and expand inclusive access to justice and rule of law are considered key contributors in promoting peaceful dispute resolution and preventing the outbreak, escalation or recurrence of violent conflict. Strengthening the justice system – alongside related mechanisms to provide community and citizen security – and ensuring respect for human rights and the rule of law are thus vital for sustaining peace and making progress on towards achieving the 2030 Agenda.

<sup>1</sup> Other goals under review will be SDG 4 on Education, SDG 8 on Growth and Employment, SDG 10 in Reducing inequalities and SDG 13 on Climate Change, and SDG 17 on Partnerships.

Objectives

In this context, Argentina, Austria, and the Netherlands, the Inter-American Court of Human Rights, the Ibero-American Judicial Summit, the Conference of Ministers of Justice of Ibero-American Countries, the Ibero-American Association of Attorney Generals, the Inter-American Association of Public Lawyers and UNDP, with support from UNESCO and the Rule of Law Unit in the Executive Office of the Secretary-General are organizing this event on July 8 - the eve of the HLPF 2019 . Building on the previous efforts of the Global Alliance for Reporting on Peaceful, Just and Inclusive Societies and the Pathfinders' Task Force on Justice, this meeting will examine the role of national and regional justice, security and human rights systems as key factors in the promotion of peace, justice and solid institutions within the framework of a transformed society that places human security and development at its center. The objectives are to

- Convene a growing international coalition of justice, security and human rights actors involved in implementing SDG 16+ for peaceful, just and inclusive societies;
- Present national and international strategies and lessons learned on concrete ways to promote progress on SDG 16+ and the 2030 Agenda, with specific focus on justice and human rights systems;
- Strengthen the commitment of national and international justice and human rights actors to accelerate progress on achieving SDG 16+ and the whole of the 2030 Agenda.

This event will offer a platform for outlining priorities to support the rule of law and human rights within the context of the Sustainable Development Agenda. It will also offer reflections from national partners, based on experiences with UN partnerships to strengthen the rule of law, security, and human rights.

Participants

Participants will include ministerial-level national representatives, chief justices and attorney generals, high-level officials, Permanent Representatives, partners from across the UN System, and representatives from think tanks, academia, civil society and the private sector. A draft agenda is below; the final agenda and further information on subsequent events will be circulated closer to the event.

Location and logistics

This meeting will be held from 10:00am – 1:00pm on Monday, July 8, in the UN Trusteeship Council Chamber at United Nations Headquarters in New York. Participants not holding a valid UN grounds pass for UN Headquarters in New York are requested to RSVP in advance to receive a guest pass to enter the security check point.
